DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 2-6, 8, 9, 20-23, 26 and 27 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Zetena (US 5,316,244).

Regarding claims 1-4, Zetena teaches a method of assembling a cable routing system comprising the steps of (see attached marked up sketch of figure 19 of Zetena provided by applicant in the response filed 5/9/05): providing first 15B and second 115 spaced-apart U-shaped end members, the end members being spaced apart a fixed distance; providing a telescoping U-shaped trough with first 15A and second 5A slideable trough sections positioned between the first 15B and second 115 end members; connecting the first 5A and second 15A trough sections to the respective first 15B and second 115 end members, wherein the first 5A and second 15A trough sections remain freely slideable upon disconnecting at least one of the first 5A and second 15A trough sections from the respective first 15B and second 115 end members.

Regarding claim 5, the first and second slideable trough sections have substantially the same coupling profile (U-shaped).

Regarding claim 6, the trough sections 21,11 are slidable to fit between the first 109 and second end 21 or 115.

Regarding claim 8, as shown in figure 6, the tab 28 creates a “slot tab” connection which stops further sliding movement.

Regarding claim 9, the retractable cable trough 21,11 allows the cable trough to be positioned between first 109 and second 21 or 115 end members and expanding the telescoping cable trough 21,11 to connect the first 21 and second 11 sections to the first 109 and second 21 or 115 end members.

Regarding claims 20-23, 26 and 27, Zetena is considered to meet the “sliding movement of the first and second trough sections being limited between a minimum extension position and a maximum extension position to prevent sliding separating of the first and second trough sections” limitation because the trough member 15B is locked in place by locking clips 25. The clips 25 are also considered “stops”.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Claims 7, 24, and 25 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Zetena in view of Merckle (US 3,351,699).

Zetena teaches the invention cited with the exception of the flanges of the second trough section having slots.

Merckle teaches in figure 8, flanges of a slideable trough having slots 30.

Therefore, it would have been obvious to a person of ordinary skill in the art, at the time of the invention, to have provided the invention of Zetena with slots in the flanges of the second trough, in order to provide easier disassembly of the troughs where the inner trough could be removed from above the outer trough by pulling the inner trough upwards (see figure 12 of Merckle where the inner trough 30 could be separated from the outer trough 36 more easily). Whereas in Zetena, the troughs have to be telescopically removed or assembled.

Allowable Subject Matter

5. Claim 1 is allowed.

Response to Arguments

6. Applicant's arguments, see pages 6-7, filed 8/29/05, with respect to the rejection of claim 1 under 35 USC 102(b) have been fully considered and are persuasive. The rejection of claim 1 has been withdrawn.

7. Applicant's arguments filed 8/29/05 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

8. Applicant argues that the first telescope member 15 of Zetena is not connectable to the second telescope trough 15, and the channel is not connectable to the raceway connector 115. It is noted, however, that the claims do not require that the first telescope member is connectable to the second telescope trough. Zetena is considered to meet the limitation “selectively connecting the first trough section to either one of the first and second end members” as shown in figure 19.

Conclusion

9. This is a request for continued examination. All claims are drawn to the same invention claimed in the earlier application and could have been finally rejected on the grounds and art of record in the next Office action if they had been entered in the earlier application. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL even though it is a first action in this case. See MPEP § 706.07(b). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no, however, event will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.

Interviews After Final

10. Applicant note that an interview after a final rejection will not be granted unless the intended purpose and content of the interview is presented briefly, in writing (the agenda of the interview must be in writing) to clarify issues for appeal requiring only nominal further consideration. Interviews merely to restate arguments of record or to discuss new limitations will be denied. See MPEP 714.13 and 713.09.
